

Researcher

Education and Social Inclusion

PPMI is a leading European research and policy analysis centre. We help public sector and civil society leaders from around the world, presenting evidence in a way that is simple, clear and ready to use.

COME PREPARED

A successful candidate will have:

- ▼ full English proficiency and excellent writing skills;
- ▼ knowledge and experience in applying standard research methods;
- ▼ experience with tools for qualitative and quantitative data analysis;
- ▼ a strong interest in education policies, social inclusion and cohesive society;
- ▼ experience in education policy analysis and proficiency in comparative analysis would be an advantage.

TAKE ON CHALLENGES

You should be ready to partake in a wide range of research and organisational activities:

- ▼ implementing policy research: both gathering key data via specific tools and providing insight on what this data means;
- ▼ qualitative and quantitative analysis, ensuring high-quality and timely delivery of necessary outputs;
- ▼ providing recommendations and presenting research findings to colleagues, clients and the public at large.

GROW WITH US

You should expect a fast-paced and dynamic environment, where the ability to work in teams and individually go hand-in-hand. In return we offer:

- ▼ a competitive salary (starting from 1000 euros net) and career prospects;
- ▼ an opportunity to work with and learn from renowned experts and established researchers;
- ▼ training and coaching on relevant research methods, analytical and managerial skills and competencies;
- ▼ flexible working arrangements;
- ▼ multicultural working environment and an ergonomic office space in the city centre.

If you see yourself in this position, send us your CV (careers@ppmi.it) by September 25, 2020 with a subject Researcher in Education and Social Inclusion.